

DUBLIN

The Scene of a Terrible Conflict Between the Military and Citizens.

Four Person Killed and Over Sixty Are Taken Into Hospitals.

Police Commissioner Suspended For Calling Out King's Borderers.

HOME RULE PLANS ARE BALKED

Three men and one woman are dead and more than sixty persons are in the hospital wounded, as the result of a battle in the King's Own Scottish Borderers firing into a crowd in the streets of Dublin last Sunday afternoon. Seven of the wounded are expected to die. Among them are three women and a boy of ten. The affair was the result of a gun-running exploit of the Nationalist Volunteers, who were being aided by sympathizers composed largely of women and youths. A consignment of rifles, said to number 10,000, was landed Sunday at Howth, nine miles from Dublin, from a private yacht. The Nationalist Volunteers cut the telegraph wires and stopped travel on the Dublin roads, and according to reports sent away most of the rifles, together with 70,000 rounds of ammunition, in motor cars.

A thousand volunteers marched openly from Dublin to receive the arms, but declared they were merely making a practice march. Local police and the coast guard tried to prevent the landing of the arms, but were driven off. When the Dublin authorities learned of the landing they sent sixty police to seize the arms. They were later re-enforced by 200 others under command of an Assistant Commissioner. The police were drawn up on both sides of the road along which the volunteers were returning, with soldiers in the center of the road. When the volunteers saw the mobilization most of them got away with their arms, scattering through the fields. The police and soldiers tried to disarm the remainder. In the resulting affray several shots were fired by volunteers, and a Corporal and a private were wounded. The volunteers also used their rifles as clubs.

The soldiers fired and used their bayonets freely, inflicting many cuts. Then they had a running fight with the volunteers and the rapidly growing crowds through the streets to their barracks.

The Lord Mayor has issued a strong letter of protest, declaring the troops were ordered out without permission being asked of the Lord Mayor, and he demands that the responsibility shall be fixed for the calling out of the soldiers and for supplying them with ball cartridges. He adds: "Dublin and Ireland look with confidence to John Redmond and his colleagues to bring to justice those responsible for this shocking outrage. There must no longer be one law for a section of the Ulster people and another law for the remainder of the Irish people."

The London Daily News calls the affair at Dublin a massacre, and demands a rigid investigation of the conduct of the soldiers. It lays the responsibility upon the weakness of the Government which allowed the organization of the Ulster volunteers and could not prohibit the Nationalists from doing the same.

There was further excitement Monday night in Dublin, but it subsided without serious results. Six hundred volunteers paraded through the streets, a crowd of 4,000 following them, marching in step and singing. Feeling runs high throughout the Nationalist Ireland. Town Councils are adopting resolutions denouncing "the massacre." The soldiers of the Limerick and Kilkenny garrisons are confined to barracks, and concerts by military bands in several towns have been canceled. The Lord Mayor of Dublin has called a meeting of the Magistrates to consider the action of the Castle authorities in calling out the police and soldiers without consulting the city officials. The police threaten a strike unless those members of the department who were dismissed for disobedience of orders are reinstated. It is announced here that Sir John Ross, the Police Commissioner, resigned as a protest against the suspensions of Deputy Commissioner Harrell. The Nationalists are delighted, as Commissioner Ross was unpopular.

In London the first effect of the Dublin home rule tragedy was to smash Premier Asquith's plans for taking up the amended bill. The Premier announced that the question had been indefinitely postponed. The Irish members are so exasperated over the killing of four persons and the wounding of many others in the clash between the regular troops and the Nationalist volunteers that they are in no frame of mind to grant any concessions to Ulster. The Laborites and many Liberals support them. The Government announced in the House of Commons that Deputy Police Commissioner Harrell, who ordered out the troops, had been suspended, and that his superior Commissioner, Sir John Ross, who expressed a desire to share the responsibility, has resigned his office.

A heated discussion was started in the House of Commons by John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, who demanded an impartial inquiry into the conduct of the troops and their punishment, if the shooting was not justified. Mr. Redmond compared "this monstrous business" with the parades of armed volunteers in Belfast. "To such a state of impotence has the British Government been reduced in Ireland," he said, "that a subordinate official is able to call in soldiers without consulting the executive of the country." He expressed the hope that the Irish people would not blame the troops too much and concluded amid great cheers: "Four-fifths of the Irish people will not submit any longer to be bullied and punished for conduct which is allowed to go scot free in Ulster by another section of their fellow countrymen."

HONORS FOR PASTOR.

The sacerdotal jubilee of the Rev. George W. Schuhmann, D. D., commemorating the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the holy priesthood, which began Monday and continued Tuesday, marked perhaps the happiest event in the history of St. John's parish. Monday morning there was a high mass of thanksgiving, and in the evening members of the congregation and the children gathered in the school hall to extend their congratulations. E. J. Mann was Chairman, and a number of addresses were made in which the pastor was praised for his good work and congratulated. J. J. Doyle spoke in behalf of the men present. Mrs. J. G. Metcalfe for the women, Miss Irene Schmitt for the young women, and John M. Hennessey for the young men. The praises were modestly accepted by Father Schuhmann, who thanked those present and bespoke a greater future for the church and school. The pleasing incident was the presentation of a floral basket to the jubilarian, in which was concealed $1,200 as a token of love and esteem from his parishioners. Tuesday morning Father Schuhmann celebrated his jubilee mass in the presence of Bishop O'Donoghue and nearly a hundred of the clergy, when Father Westermann preached the sermon. Then followed an automobile ride and a great banquet at the Tyler Hotel. Rev. John Riley, of Shelbyville, was the toastmaster, and brief but happy responses were made by Bishop O'Donoghue, Vicar General Cronin and the jubilarian. Father Schuhmann thanked the priests for their generous participation in his silver jubilee, and expressed regret that with the completion of twenty-five years of service he leaves the buoyant junior clergy to take comfort, he said, in the thought that he is now to be added to the company of the senior priests, "tried and grown silvery in the service of the Master."

CONNELLY'S SURPRISE.

County President William J. Connelly was given the surprise of his life last Saturday noon when he arrived home from the Hibernian National convention, which had been in session at Norfolk, Va., that old wise bird, the Stork, having anticipated his arrival by leaving a pretty little boy and girl at his home on North Twentieth street, and just about the time he had started for home. Of course it goes without saying that he is being deluged with congratulations, also a little kidding on the side, while ex-State President George J. Butler, the proud grandpa, has already filled out applications for the new arrivals in the A. O. H., and the Ladies' Auxiliary.

REPORT ON PICNIC.

At the meeting of division 4, A. O. H., Monday evening, in Bertrand Hall, County Financial Secretary Langan made a preliminary report on the recent County Board picnic and stated that when all ticket returns were made a handsome sum would be realized, and would be the best showing in years. President John Hennessey complimented the Emerald Hibernian Social Club for their handling of the dance hall at the picnic and stated that the dance was a credit to the order. At the next meeting of the division alternates will be elected to the State convention, which will be held at Covington on September 7 and 8.

SEASON'S BIG EXCURSION.

The big excursion of the present season will be that of the Catholic Knights of Louisville to Jasper, Ind., on Sunday, August 30. Arrangements have been made with the Southern Railway Company for first-class equipment and every accommodation to make the trip enjoyable. President Ben Kruse, Gen. Michael Reichert, Secretary Henry Schulten and Capt. Oscar Maier are making great preparations for a big day, and are being assisted by Capt. Kunkel and the Knights of Jasper. There will be a hearty welcome for the excursionists and many features for their entertainment.

INDORSED BY M'DERMOTT.

While in Washington last Saturday Lieut. Gov. Edward J. McDermott saw Senator Kern and asked him to endorse Daniel J. Dougherty, of Jeffersonville, Ind., as a candidate for a position as appraiser of physical properties under the Interstate Commerce Commission. Gov. McDermott pointed out that the Southern Indiana man is well qualified to fill such a place, and many Kentuckians would like to see Dougherty obtain the appointment.

BISHOP BYRNE.

The Right Rev. Thomas S. Byrne, Bishop of Nashville, celebrated on Wednesday his seventy-third birthday anniversary. Bishop Byrne, who is loved throughout Tennessee, will soon celebrate his golden jubilee as a priest.

M'LAUGHLIN

Choice For National President of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Convention Sends Cable to Red- mond Declaring For Ireland.

Addresses and Reports Received With Applause From Delegates.

BOSTON NEXT MEETING PLACE

The forty-ninth national convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, held in Norfolk, has passed into history as the greatest and most successful that has taken place since the order was founded in America. Opening with high mass in St. Mary's church, the Right Rev. Dennis J. O'Connell, Bishop of Richmond, preached a most eloquent sermon, extending the welcome of Virginia and Norfolk to the Ancient Order. Bishop O'Connell paid a high tribute to the Ancient Order of Hibernians, telling of the birth of the order about 300 years ago in the determination of a people to worship God according to their own belief. "Your priests had been denied the right to say mass, but you said that they should say mass. On the mountain, in the valley, and behind the hedge, you maintained your worship and your order has stood through those years as the staunch supporter of your church and faith."

The first session was held in the Wells Theater, when addresses of welcome were delivered by County President John F. Lawler, Hon. Harvey M. Dickson and State President John J. Blake, the responses being made by Mrs. Ellen Ryan Jolly, National President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, and National President James J. Regan, all being received with hearty applause. After the Credentials Committee reported President Regan announced the standing committee and the convention got down to real business. Wednesday's session was devoted to consideration of reports and the recommendations of the national officers, all of which showed the order in a most flourishing condition.

Home rule for Ireland occupied the attention of the convention on Thursday, when the following cablegram, signed by President Regan, was sent to John E. Redmond: "The Ancient Order of Hibernians, 200,000 strong, in national convention assembled, extends its greetings to you and to the Irish Volunteers. We pledge our assistance. Ireland must not be dismembered."

Sir Roger Casement, of Dublin, Ireland; Hon. Patrick J. Egan, former Minister to Chile, and Bourke Cochran, of New York, were visitors at the Friday morning session and addressed the order. Mr. Egan had been in the city since the convention began, but Sir Roger and Mr. Cochran only arrived that morning from New York. Sir Roger, who is non-Catholic, is one of the foremost leaders in the Irish Volunteer movement. The fact that he is non-Catholic made his address before a strictly Catholic body all the more impressive and agreeable to them. In the course of his remarks Sir Roger stated that while the Irish Volunteers are equipped with 160,000 rifles home rule will become a reality. This he said would not mean civil war, but an overpowering strength in comparison to the four armed counties of Ulster, that are opposing home rule, would have the effect of insuring the bill.

Few changes were made in the laws by the convention, which honored the retiring President by making him a member of the National Board for two years. Among the resolutions introduced and adopted was one protesting against "efforts now being made by fascists" to introduce eugenic education into the school room. The resolution declares that the home is the proper place for imparting such knowledge. Following a spirited but friendly contest Joseph McLaughlin, of Philadelphia, was elected National President of the Ancient Order on Saturday at the close of the session of the biennial convention, and Boston was chosen for the meeting place of the order in 1916.

McLaughlin was named over Maurice Donnelly, of Indiana, by a majority of 151. The vote was McLaughlin 285, Donnelly 134.

Other officers elected were: Patrick P. Cannon, of Connecticut, National Vice President; N. W. Delaney, of Illinois, Treasurer; P. J. Sullivan, of Connecticut, Secretary; J. C. Foy, National Vice President for Canada. Directors—John F. Healy, of Delaware; Thomas J. Matthews, of Rhode Island; Edward R. Hayes, of New Jersey; James Clancy, of Michigan; Myles F. McPartland, of New York.

COVINGTON.

The fortieth anniversary of their marriage was fittingly celebrated on Wednesday, July 29, by Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Averdick, of Covington. On Wednesday morning solemn high mass was sung in St. Aloysius church by the Rev. Father Ahmann in commemoration of the event. Dr. Averdick is President of the Covington Board of Education and one of Covington's most efficient physicians. The worthy couple have many friends in Louisville, who join in wishing them ad multos annos.

Well Known Paper Expresses Strong Sentiments on Butt Incident.

People Who Believe This Anti- Catholic Fable Are Termed Monomaniacs.

Story Was Fashioned by Some Pervert Says the Globe- Democrat.

REV. DR. GLADDEN'S OPINION

In the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church, held in Kansas City a short time ago, a certain Dr. J. A. Smith charged that "an edict from the Pope was found on the body of Major Butt commanding all Catholics to vote for a candidate other than Woodrow Wilson in the Presidential election." C. L. Leppert, of South Omaha, Neb., wrote to ex-President Taft asking him to either affirm or deny this statement. In a letter to Mr. Leppert, dated July 1, Mr. Taft declares that "the statement is false from beginning to end, and I wonder that a church or a minister of a church, who ought to be careful in giving currency to statements of any character without the slightest foundation, should be responsible for this." Mr. Taft points out that the body or effects of Major Butt have never been found.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat of July 18, in commenting on this matter, expresses itself in no uncertain terms on the circulation and acceptance of such ridiculous tales as this. "It emphasizes the fact that Mr. Wilson was not nominated until almost two months after the Titanic disaster, and that this in itself would show the absurdity of the fable. 'But the denial,' it adds, 'will do little good. The only people capable of believing it are monomaniacs on the subject with which the statement deals, and they will secretly hug it as proof of their suspicions. It was fashioned by some pervert who wished to play on the prejudices of such persons. The only surprising thing is that a speaker so reckless as to repeat it before a representative assembly was not challenged by some friend of truth to produce some evidence to substantiate it. A false sense of courtesy should not serve to protect men who boldly make groundless charges, even though they wear clerical garb.'

This editorial pronouncement of the Globe-Democrat, a leading St. Louis daily in most a refreshing. It shows that there is some sense of morality and truth remaining in some of our communities, which have been flooded with similar and even more vicious and unprincipled fabrications for the last three years. The number of "perverts" and "monomaniacs" in this country is indeed surprisingly large at the present time. In the very same city in which the Globe-Democrat is located there resides a certain "Rev. J. Scott, D. D., traveler, lecturer and preacher, pastor Plymouth Congregationalist church," who has written an introduction to "The Devil in Robes or the Sin of Priests," one of the most rotten of the Menace's publications, praising the book and commending the illustrations in it as "true pictures" when as a matter of fact every picture in the volume reflecting on the church and intending to show the cruelty and lust of the priesthood are doctored illustrations, some of them being well known pictures of entirely different events. An Indian Rajah, for example, is passed off as "Father Gonzello of the Philippine Islands," his head and a Roman collar and cross added to his make-up. The ignorance and morbid superstition of thousands of American Protestants and the unscrupulousness or lack of knowledge of many of their clergymen is pitiful in the extreme, an opinion which has been expressed in their regard by Dr. Washington Gladden, the well known Protestant divine, in his article on "The Anti-Pope Panic," in the July 18 issue of Harper's Weekly.

PRIMARY

At Hand With McCreary and Stanley Gaining Much Ground.

Local Democrats Will Remem- ber the Present Beckham Campaigners.

The Latter Not So Boastful and Sure of the Local Result.

REICHERT PREFERRED TO HALY

This week, the closing one of the campaign for the United States Senatorial nominations for the long and short terms, was featured by the remarkable gains of Gov. McCreary, especially in this district, Congressman Stanley holding his own here, while gaining ground out in the State, and ex-Gov. Beckham losing so rapidly that his campaign managers, becoming alarmed, had already begun their threadbare cries of fraud, which comes with bad grace from the camp which was responsible for the glaring frauds of the Beckham-McCreary primary, when wholesale robbery was perpetrated in the mountain districts. This being the election when trees and animals were voted and the Beckham supporters held back returns three or four days waiting to see how many votes they needed, in light and order, strutting about with the proverbial chip on their shoulder daring anyone to dispute their claim, their attitude being echoed by a few office-holders in the City Hall and Court House who espoused the Beckham cause early in the game with the hope of being known as original Beckham men in case the Haly brand of politics was successful here. As an evidence of this spirit the County Clerk's office force fell all over themselves, literally speaking, in their haste to furnish the Beckham campaign managers with copies of the registration list, this being a parallel case with that of other city and county officials who have attempted to dictate to subordinate employees and line them up in the Beckham camp. As stated before in these columns, the Haly-Beckham brand of Democracy is not relished by local Democrats, and later on some of these Beckham leaders will have a hard time explaining their present attitude. Right now many of them have realized that their candidate is doomed to run a bad third in this district, causing them to retreat from their former position and plead for harmony and a little mercy on Percy and Cripps.

The big drift to McCreary this past week emphasizes very forcibly the strength of Chairman Frank McGrath in this district, who in a short period has gathered together a fighting force composed principally of his personal friends, and in the last few days has practically driven the Beckham forces to cover, and many of the latter have already dropped the Beckham flag and gone into the McCreary or Stanley camps. The Stanley leaders will have a splendid working organization at every precinct in the city, and Senator Hite Huffaker and Mack Pythian, who have been in charge of the local headquarters, predict a big plurality for their man in Jefferson county. The attempt of some of the Beckham forces to belittle the Stanley campaign because of the support of Lawrence Reichert falls flat when it is taken into consideration that Percy Haly is the Beckham sponsor. The Democrats of Louisville and the State of Kentucky who know Lawrence Reichert will follow his lead at any time and in any movement in preference to Beckham's man Friday.

In the three-cornered race for the Senatorial short term between Gen. Bennett Young, Senator Johnson Camden and ex-Congressman Dave Smith, Gen. Young has set a sizzling pace for both of his competitors and his aggressive campaign has been given wide mention in many of the papers out in the State, especially the speeches referring to the charge that Senator Camden bolted the Democratic Presidential ticket in 1896, 1900 and 1908. Gen. Young states that the present Senator had never been aligned with the party until the gubernatorial campaign of 1911. Right here in Louisville and Jefferson county Gen. Young is assured of a big vote, not only because of the fact that this is his home district, but his active interest in the ranks of the local Democratic party in the past has won him strong support, many of whom will represent him at the different precincts throughout the district.

EUCARISTIC CONGRESS.

The Eucharistic Congress held at

Lourdes last week proved a stupendous demonstration of the faith. This was the twenty-fifth of these great international congresses, and though none has been held in France since the war on the church began there, that country surpassed herself in the effort to make the celebration worthy of the jubilee year of an institution whose constant progress and fruitful results are among the most intense manifestations of the life of the church. The American hierarchy, led by Cardinal Farley and Bishop Maes, was well represented.

ORPHAN PICNIC REPORT.

The recently organized Catholic Orphan Society held a special meeting Thursday night to receive final reports from the Fourth of July picnic for the benefit of St. Vincent's and St. Thomas' Asylums. There was a good attendance and upon all sides were seen indications of growing interest in the society. President Meehan stating that branches were about to be organized in two more parishes. Secretary Thomas W. Ryan and Treasurer George H. Nabors presented the report of the Executive Committee, which showed that for the orphans the handsome sum of $3,870.99 had been netted from the picnic. This was most gratifying when consideration is given the short time the society has been organized and the late date the decision was reached to undertake the work that proved so fruitful.

APPEAL TO WILSON.

An appeal to President Wilson to deny the use of the mails to the vile papers in this country that defame the Catholic church has been prepared by the Rev. J. V. Hennessey, of the Holy Spirit parish in Buffalo, N. Y., and has already received a large number of signatures. It distinguishes the liberty of the press from the license of publishing libels; states that Catholics as loyal, law-abiding and industrious citizens protest against the invasion of religious homes; denounces the campaign of vilification waged by the dirty publications in question, and finally calls on the President to enforce existing law against the use of the mails by such indecent journals, and if this be not sufficient to procure the enactment of a law that will deny them the aid of the Government in the circulation of their slanders.

DESERVED PROMOTION.

His legion of friends throughout the city were greatly pleased Tuesday when an announcement was made that Charles Raidy had been appointed Assistant Superintendent of Mails at the Louisville Postoffice, succeeding Lawrence J. Mackey, who resigned to become a candidate for Congress. Robert L. Stultz succeeds Mr. Raidy as foreman of carriers, and his friends are also elated over his promotion. Both appointees had long experience in the postal service, and it is safe to predict that they will make a record satisfactory to the Government, the public and their friends.

FATHER COTTER.

The Rev. James H. Cotter, who is widely known throughout the country as a lecturer and editorial writer for the Buffalo Catholic Union and Times, will on August 16 celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his pastorate of St. Lawrence church at Ironton, Ohio. Father Cotter is deservedly popular with all classes, and his friends of the Catholic press will rejoice with him in the culmination of a quarter of a century of good work. His devoted people in Ironton are making preparations for a celebration that will be in keeping with the importance of the event.

TWO HAPPY YOUNG MEN.

Joseph H. Weller, of Bellevue, and Charles L. McCaskey, of Bloomfield, are two of the happiest young men in the country. They recently took the examination for the Knights of Columbus graduate scholarship, and Saturday they received the welcome intelligence that both had successfully passed. The winning of the prize makes them eligible for the $1,500 scholarship in the Catholic University of America at Washington, D. C. Forty-one candidates, representing twenty-three States, were successful, the scholarships being quite evenly distributed over the different sections of the country.

CORNERSTONE LAYING.

With all the impressiveness that characterizes the ritual of the Catholic church and prescribed for such occasions, the Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, Bishop of the diocese of Louisville, with a large number of assisting priests, will lay the cornerstone of the new St. Elizabeth church on East Burnett street on Sunday morning, August 9. Rev. Father James Assent is the energetic pastor of St. Elizabeth's, and under his administration the congregation has been steadily increasing in numbers. Work will be pushed on the new edifice, and when finished it will take rank with the largest and finest churches in Kentucky.

SUPPER BY LADIES.

The congregation of St. Columba's church, Thirty-fifth and Market, of which Rev. John D. Kaitner is the pastor, will give their annual lawn fete next Wednesday and Thursday, and are prepared to entertain great gatherings. Euchre and lotto will be played on the lawn both afternoons and evenings. The ladies will serve hot suppers, for which they have become noted. An enjoyable time is assured all who attend. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the new school building now nearing completion.

URSULINES

First Teaching Order of Women to Be Established in the Church.

Founded First Convent Within Limits of the United States.

How They Protected and Cared For Young Girls From France.

THEY CONDUCT ACADEMY HERE

By James A. Rooney, LL. D.
To the Ursulines, the daughters of St. Angela and the first teaching order of women established in the church, belongs the honor of having founded in 1727 the first convent within the limits of the United States, though the first house of the order in America had been founded in Canada by Mother Marie de l'Incarnation nearly a hundred years before.

When in 1718 Bienville and his men transformed the abandoned Indian village of Tchoutchouan, about 110 miles from the Mississippi's mouth, into a city, which he named New Orleans in honor of the Duc d'Orleans of France, the plans of De La Tour, the chief engineer of the colony, included a parish church under the invocation of St. Louis, on whose site the old Cathedral stands today.

Here the Capuchins and Jesuits labored, going among the scattered French and Indians, and the new city grew apace until in 1725 they were ministering to about 1,000 families. More priests were needed and when Father Nicholas Ignatius Beaulieu, the founder of the Jesuit mission, decided to make a voyage to France to enlist volunteers for the work, Bienville charged him to secure a band of nuns capable of taking charge of an hospital and school. Father de Beaulieu visited the Ursulines at Rouen and they agreed to organize a band for a foundation in the new world. Under authority of a royal patent issued September 18, 1726, Mother Mary Tranchevain, of St. Augustine, secured seven professed nuns from various convents of the order, besides Mademoiselle Hauchard, a novice, and two postulants. The little colony, reinforced by Fathers Tartarin and Douteleau, sailed from L'Orient for Louisiana, and reached New Orleans August 6, 1727.

Bienville received the Sisters with joy and as their convent was not ready for occupancy they welcomed them to the hospitality of his own home. They lost no time in beginning the work to undertake which they had journeyed so far, and on the day after their arrival they took charge of the hospital and a school for poor children. On taking possession of their convent they opened an academy for girls, the first institution in the United States for the education of women. When they moved to a larger building in the lower part of the city in 1724 their first convent became the Bishop's residence and later was used as the chancery office of the diocese.

As the Ursulines had established the first convent in the United States, one of these, Mary Turpin, daughter of a Canadian father and an Indian mother, was the first native American nun to take the veil in this country. She died at the age of fifty-two in 1761.

The Ursulines also gave asylum to many young girls sent out from France on the urgent appeal of Bienville as wives for the colonists, and as each band arrived they were confined to the care of the Sisters until suitable husbands were secured for them. To vouch for their respectability each girl on leaving home was given a curious casket, whence they became known as "casket girls," and now many of the best families of Louisiana are proud to be able to trace their descent from these "casket girls."

From these small beginnings the Ursulines have spread all over the United States, numbering now about 1,800 professed nuns, and they have strictly adhered to the original objects of their foundation, which was expressly and exclusively the education of young girls. They are found teaching in parochial schools and conducting academies all over the country, and in 1904 they established at New Rochelle the first Catholic college for women in the United States.

The splendid Sacred Heart Academy at Crescent Hill is conducted by the Ursuline Sisters.

CHANGE FOR BETTER.

Friends of Phil McGovern, the well known veteran letter carrier, will be glad to learn that there has been a slight change for the better in his condition this week. For over a month he has been confined to his home, being for some time in a rather critical condition, but his recovery, though slow, now seems assured.

LEAVES FOR VACATION.

Mayor John Buschmeyer left Thursday to spend a few weeks' vacation at Atlantic City and in the Maine woods. His wife and three children accompanied him.

HOPE IT'S TRUE.

Thursday the leaders of all the political parties in the United Kingdom held a conference at the residence of Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, and press dispatches, while not giving the terms, state that an agreement was reached between all parties in relation to Irish home rule. The international situation was also under discussion, after which it became known that the Government was taking precautions to prevent being surprised by eventualities.

MAD WAR.

When this issue reaches its readers all Europe may be engaged in a war the consequences of which the like has never been known. Like many others, we regret that Francis Joseph of Austria has not deemed it meet to comply with the advice of the Pope "not to stain his old age with blood." He could and therefore he should have avoided the war, which insignificant as it is now, may perhaps very soon crimson all the battlefields of Europe. With the Cincinnati Enquirer we think that "Without loss of dignity the Emperor could have bowed his head to the wishes of the Supreme Pontiff."

TRIBUTE TO ICONOCLAST.

In the August number of Brann's Iconoclast Editor Windle pays the following tribute to the Catholic priest and nun: "Death and duty often go hand in hand. This is frequently the case in the lives of priests and Sisters of Charity. In Memphis and many other cities visited by plagues you find monuments erected to the memory of priests and nuns who died that others might live. When friends died, when blood relations left victims to die, these strange priests and Sisters came with medicine in their hands and a message of love on their lips. They came to suffer, to serve, to die, yet these are the men and women whose lives are blackened by character assassins like Watson, Walker, Boles, Spurgeon and Seguin. Though a non-Catholic, I permit no person on this earth to go beyond me in my admiration for those martyred to duty. While I live they shall have a defender."

CATHOLIC CHALLENGE.

In a recent sermon on Catholicity, its effect on the lives of its adherents and some of the erroneous beliefs that have grown current, the Rev. George R. Gebauer, pastor of the First Unitarian church at Duluth, Minn., had this to say:

"No greater helper to the Catholic church in the long run is there than the orator who indulges in gross misrepresentations. He may tickle the ears of certain foolish people, but he will disgust the thinking men and women, and he will, by his action, only arouse sympathy for the church and excite loyalty in the hearts of the lukewarm Catholic. No greater silliness is there than to rant about an institution like the confessional, which fails to appeal to us, but which has been a source of comfort to millions. Certainly as long as Catholics are willing to give into the keeping of their priests the secrets of their souls, it is no concern of ours. And so, too, it is foolish to attack Catholic asceticism. The great menace of the country is not the Catholic church, nor the Menace, for its days are counted, but the spirit of ignorance, fear and hatred out of which such mad papers and orators arise. To me it will seem that the Catholic church is not so much a menace as it is a challenge. It challenges the entire Protestant church to awaken and become a greater power for good in the lives of men. It bids the various denominations to work together in harmony for the kingdom of God and put aside all bickering and jealousy. It calls to the Protestant church to rival it in good works. And it has its challenge for the free man in religion. It bids him to prove his greater, nobler faith by nobler, greater works."

URIAH HEAPS.

If the Guardians of Liberty and similar cattle are engaged in the high and holy calling they claim to be, how happens it that they immediately deny when their names are printed? They seem to be quite as humble as the detestable Uriah Heaps.

Watch the man the knockers are directing their hammers against.

He is accomplishing something. No man ever made any headway without opposition. The further he advances the greater the anvil chorus. Failure is always jealous of success.

Pius X., the parish priest of Christendom, will have been Pope eleven years next Tuesday. May God long spare him upon earth.

The nomination of Beckham would jeopardize the chances of the entire Democratic ticket in November.

TWIN CITY FIELD MEET.

Tomorrow afternoon at Eclipse Park will occur the annual field meet of the Twin City Baseball League, which is certain to surpass any athletic event ever witnessed in Louisville. The schedule of events includes a hundred yard dash for three prizes, long distance throw for two prizes, circling the bases for three prizes, relay race for hand-some cup donated by the Louisville Times, and the pig chase. In those preceding the relay race there are twenty-four entries and in the latter thirty-two. Ed Wolfe is Chairman of the meet and Dan J. Hennessy, Thomas F. Burke and John J. Barry will act as judges, while E. M. Caffrey and H. Wellenbrink will be the timers. Joseph Hanrahan has been selected for starter and Ed Steinbock and Leo Ullrich will act as scorers. First place in the events will count three points, second place two and third one, and the player receiving the highest number of points in all events will receive a palm beach suit and a $10 pair of trousers. Each ticket of admission will bear a duplicate coupon, and the holder of the lucky one will receive a load of coal.

The event that promises the most amusement is the pig chase. The pig is to be greased so as to make it the hardest proposition the players have handled this season. To the player who has the best grip and succeeds in catching the pig will be given a $4 fielder's glove. When caught the porker will be given to the Little Sisters of the Poor.

The all-star ball game will be a royal contest and should be witnessed by all those who have been attending the free games of the Catholic League. Ed Wolfe, who has done the greatest work for this organization, will pilot the Red team, while Henry Coleman will try to slip one over with the Greens. The lineup of the two teams will be as follows:

Reds—R. Haragan or J. Scully, p.; Bluel or Jansing, c.; Voor, 1b.; Thornton or Shreck, 2b.; Joe Burke, 3b.; N. Murphy, s. s.; Jack Sheehan, l. f.; Renn, c. f.; Chester or Shadd, r. f.

Greens—E. Harrigan or Henry, p.; Thompson or Eilers, c.; Clegg, 1b.; Kennedy or Hubsch, 2b.; O'Brien, 3b.; Morris, s. s.; Lovett, l. f.; Hogan, c. f.; Finn, r. f.

ROB AND SET FIRE.

Burglars entered the home of E. M. Caffrey, 1720 Fourth street, last Saturday while the family were away, and after making away with jewelry and clothing worth over $400 the intruders tried to cover their tracks by setting fire to the house. Fortunately neighbors saw the smoke issuing and turned in an alarm. The firemen responded promptly and saved the house from the flames. Mr. Caffrey and Mrs. Caffrey returned before the firemen had left.

BIG FISH FRY.

The big fish fry and picnic to be given Monday at Phoenix Hill by the people of St. Agnes' parish and the fathers of the Sacred Heart Retreat on the Newburg road promises to be an affair out of the ordinary and one that all will enjoy. Besides the fish fry and other attractions a novel and pleasing feature will be the distribution of a large number of well filled and beautifully decorated baskets. Friends of St. Agnes' are invited to come and bring their friends, for whom there will be music and entertainment both afternoon and evening.

INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION.

Next Monday and Tuesday the United States Commission on Industrial Relations will hear evidence in the city of Lead, S. D., as to industrial conditions in that place and vicinity, and in particular as to the dispute between the Right Rev. Bishop Busch and the Homestake Mining Company on the question of Sunday observance. This case, it will be recalled, came into prominence about a year ago when Bishop Busch abandoned his see city and appealed to the Catholic clergy and laity to assist him in his fight for a Sunday rest day for the workers in his diocese.

VACATION JOYS INCREASE.

The beautiful grounds of the Catholic Summer School at Cliff Haven, N. Y., are now furnishing joy and recreation to nearly a thousand guests. While amusements are plentiful the educational features attract great interest. The lectures of the week were delivered by the Rev. M. J. Ahern, S. J., of Canisius College, Buffalo; Rev. F. P. Duffy, former professor in St. Joseph's Seminary at Yonkers; and William Laurel Harris, President of the Municipal Art Society of New York.

MINNEAPOLIS TODAY.

The Colonels will tackle Joe Cantillon's Minneapolis team today, playing a double header tomorrow, and although the Colonels are slightly crippled they should have no trouble in breaking even on the series, and on leaving there should have easier sailing with the St. Paul team, who are hopeless tail-enders. The Louisville team has made a good showing on the road thus far and also have been a good drawing card, which is especially satisfactory to Owner Wathen, the financial results on this trip and the recent other Jonah team, the Cleveland, home stay being the best thus far of the season. The crippling of four-game series and the Colonels Catcher Clemens at Milwaukee was unfortunate for the team just at this stage of the race, but in case there is still a contest between these two teams later on the local fans will have an opportunity to witness the fray, Milwaukee making their last stand of the season here on September 1 for four games. Louisville's results on this trip and the recent other Jonah team, the Cleveland, home stay being the best thus far of the season. ATTENDS CHAPTER.
Rev. Father Peter Englert, O. F. M., of St. Boniface Monastery, was in Cincinnati the first part of the week, where he attended the annual chapter of the Franciscan Fathers, held on Tuesday at St. Anthony's Monastery, Mt. Airy.

BACK HOME.
Attorney Austin E. Walsh returned home the first of the week, after a successful ten days' business trip to Chicago and Milwaukee. While impressed with those cities, he says that for him they are not in it with Louisville.

HAPPILY WEDDED.
A pretty wedding was solemnized with a nuptial mass early Tuesday morning at St. Patrick's church, when Robert A. Davin led to the altar Miss Corinne McNally, a popular young lady of that parish. The bride and groom are now on their wedding trip, and after August 10 will be at home at 521 North Twenty-first street. The best wishes of a host of friends follow them into their new life.

RIVERVIEW.
Riverview Park makes a delightful place for an outing, as the cool river breeze is a refreshing experience in itself. But Riverview offers in addition thereto many other delights. There are the free picnic tables, the playgrounds for the children, the open air concerts and the "Spotless Kitchen," which offers a fine menu and up-to-date service with every delicacy of the season awaiting your order.

PIRIEST RESCUES WOMAN.
The Rev. John J. Downey, pastor of St. Michael's church at Hartford, Conn., was playing golf near Goodwin Park pond on Saturday, when a patient of a sanitarium jumped from her carriage and threw herself into the water. The priest plunged in after her, and despite the woman's struggles, in which his face was scratched, brought her to shore.

HELP HOME RULE.
Ten thousand dollars was sent to the Trustees of the Irish home rule fund in Dublin by Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, of Boston, National Treasurer of the United Irish League, Tuesday night. In a letter accompanying the draft Treasurer Fitzpatrick says that recent events have intensified the feeling of sympathy among Irish-Americans, and that further financial aid will be extended.

NICE GIFT.
The late Susan L. Emery, author of the "Inner Life of the Soul" and other works, left her writings to the Catholic Foreign Mission Society of America, Maryknoll, Ossining, N. Y. Miss Emery was a distinguished convert and from her Protestant days had a special interest in foreign missions. Her sister, who never became a Catholic, was one of the leaders in Protestant mission movements.

CONDEMN'S BIG PARASITE.
Father O'Hara is the Chairman of the Industrial Welfare Commission of the State of Oregon. This commission is charged with the administration of the new law of that State for the establishment of minimum wages for women workers. The spirit in which the commission has entered its work is shown in this statement by Father O'Hara:

"An industry which does not pay its employees enough to cover their necessary living is a parasite on the homes of the poor and is subsidized by its employees. If any industry is so important to the community as to deserve to be sustained by a subsidy such a subsidy should come from some other source than its working girls."

The Oregon statute does not in itself fix the minimum wages. It empowers the commission to fix them, with regard to the facts and the surrounding conditions of each industry. Several lawsuits contesting the rules of the commission and attacking the validity of the statute have been decided by the trial judge in favor of the law and of the commission's rules in that case. Concerning this litigation Father O'Hara says: "The principle on which the act is based is that the welfare of women must take precedence over any commercial consideration. The mothers of the future generation should not be sacrificed to industrial gain. This is the first time the question has ever been taken into the courts in this country, but similar measures have been in effect in Europe and Australia for many years." The trial judge ruled that "the law regulating the number of hours of labor for women and minors is within the police power and constitutional," so "a law fixing a minimum wage is within the police power."

CARDINAL MANNING'S STORY.
It was Cardinal Manning who related this incident as having happened to himself:
One night I was returning to my residence in Westminster when I met a poor man carrying a basket and smoking a pipe. I thought over this: He who smokes gets thirsty; he who is thirsty desires drink; he who drinks too much gets drunk; he who gets drunk endangers his soul. This man is in danger of mortal sin. Let us save him. I affectionately addressed him:
"Are you a Catholic?"
"I am, thanks be to God."
"Where are you from?"

REQUESTS TO CHARITY.
John Murray, a pioneer contractor of New York City, and a member of the Tammany Hall Central Committee, who died recently, gave $39,500 to Catholic charities by his will, which has just been probated.
SUPREME COURT.
The Supreme Court of the United States is at present composed of nine Judges. In all only sixty-two men have served in the Supreme Court since its creation in 1789. Edward D. White, of Louisiana, is the present Chief Justice.

BARRED FROM ALTARS.
Rome dispatches say a strict decree has just been issued by the Sacred Congregation of Rites in which electric lights are absolutely forbidden on or over any altar containing the Blessed Sacrament or the relics of a saint.
TAKES HIGHEST GRADE.
Sister Earnesta Minder, of St. John's Hospital, Springfield, Ill., was recently given the highest grade ever awarded by the Illinois State Board of Pharmacy. St. John has more registered pharmacists on its staff than any other hospital in that State.

YOUTHFUL BISHOPS.
The youngest Bishop in the world is Bishop De Aquino, a Salesian, who is Bishop of a diocese in Brazil, and is but thirty years of age. Bishop M. J. Curley, recently consecrated for the see of St. Augustine, Fla., ranks next in youth, being thirty-four years old.
FONTAINE FERRY.
This week marked the beginning of the second half of the season at Fontaine Ferry, which Manager Bilger hopes will be as good as was the first half. Another big bill is ahead for next week in the vaudeville theater. Natiello's band continues to present a repertoire of musical selections in the free concerts that possess a quality and snap that please the general public. Here this will be the banner bathing year, as hundreds of converts have been made to the cause of fresh air and fresh water at the swimming pool.

THE REASON WHY.
Many Catholics do not know the reason why green vestments are used so frequently on Sundays this year. Green is the proper color for all Sundays outside the penitential seasons of Advent and Lent, when the office of the day is not superseded by a feast of higher class. Formerly many feasts of saints were celebrated on Sundays, which made the color either white or red. In a rearrangement, effected by the present Pontiff, the offices of most saints that fall on a Sunday now drop out and receive a simple commemoration instead.

EDITOR WRITES PLAY.
Readers of the Catholic press will be pleased to learn of the successful launching of a new play, "The Divine Friend," by Charles Phillips, editor of the Monitor, of San Francisco. It will be produced by Margaret Anglin, the Catholic actress. Mr. Phillips is one of the youngest of the editors in Catholic journalism, and aside from editorial work has been a free lance in the literary world. His "Back Home," a Christmas greeting to father and mother, is considered one of the best of its kind in verse and received a high commendation from Col. Roosevelt when President. This production has had a wide circulation. His "Unknown Dead," written after a visit to Arlington National Cemetery, has brought to him much praise. All readers of the Catholic press wish him and Margaret Anglin a triumphant success with "The Divine Friend."

PAINT AND POWDER.
One New Jersey young woman asks the priest editor of the Mount Carmel Bulletin the question: "Is it wrong to use paint and powder on my face? The summer sun makes my nose red unless I use powder, and sometimes I look ghastly unless I employ just a little paint." To this Father Rongetti replies: "The use of paint and powder becomes sinful only when it is used with a bad intention. Very few women use paint and powder for an evil purpose, and these few usually show their evil intentions in other ways. But listen to me, Mary. I did not ridicule the use of paint and powder because it was sinful, but because many of our innocent girls, anxious to be in style, are carrying the practice to silly and ridiculous extremes. One would suppose from the way that young ladies are daubing and plastering themselves that the natural feminine face was a thing to be ashamed of. I should like to know the honest opinion of our young men about this practice. Perhaps some of you will send them to us. And now, the papers say, we are to have the crowning glory of womanhood, her flowing tresses, to match her gowns! The same lady will appear during one week with hair of five or six different colors."

ANDREW JACKSON.
Andrew Jackson, born of Irish parents, who was the seventh President of the United States, was first employed in making saddles, and it was from the shop of the saddler that he entered a law office at the age of eighteen. From this profession he entered politics, then into the army, and after defeating 12,000 veterans at the battle of New Orleans, he became our Chief Executive.

EDUCATION AND CHARACTER.
Education that does not mold character is not education. It is impossible to build character without a religious foundation. A good many Christian people outside the Catholic church are beginning to see the utility of education without God. The less some people have in their heads the more they find to talk about.

Division 1 of New Albany will have a great picnic at Glenwood Park on August 4. Committees are arranging an attractive list of amusements.

Division 20 of Chicago has made plans for raising and equipping a complete regiment by August 15, to be ready at a moment's notice for service in Ireland.

The hall of Division 2 should be filled Thursday night to receive the report from the annual picnic. This will contain some welcome news for the members of that division.

Division 1 will meet Tuesday night. As the last meeting was passed quite an amount of business must be transacted, and therefore the members are urged to attend.

State President Miss Fannie Kennedy, of the Ladies' Auxiliary, and County President Miss Mary Corcoran will report on the proceedings of the Norfolk convention at the meeting next Wednesday evening.

There will be a large gathering at the meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary next Wednesday night to hear the reports of Miss Fannie Kennedy and Miss Mary Corcoran, who represented Kentucky in the national convention.

The national officers, accompanied by the divisions of Norfolk, paid tribute to the memory of Father Ryan, the poet priest of the South, when they placed a wreath at the foot of the shaft erected to him in Elmwood cemetery.

Division 3 continues to increase its membership since entering its own home. This division is now attracting interest everywhere and is warmly commended for its enterprise. It will not be long before President Maloney will conduct one of the largest initiations that has taken place in recent years.

A Reverend's Experience.

Vaspar, Tenn., August, 1913.
I was a nervous wreck from indigestion, melancholy and almost crazy, but since I took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic my mind is relieved and the melancholy and the blues are away from me. I thank God for the tonic and am telling people what a good medicine it is.Rev. A. E. Bray.
Mr. N. F. Dugan writes from Logan, N. Dak.: "It helps better than anything with a tremor-like sensation in my arms and hands and disturbance more or less in my head, like dull pain; did not care for society; but Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic relieved the trouble."

Rev. J. B. Meister, of Detroit, Mich., writes: "Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic is a great blessing and an enormous benefit to the suffering."

A Valuable Book on Nervous Diseases and a Sample bottle to any address. For patients also get the medicine free.
